DATA SHARING PLAN

All data primary data produced and secondary data utilized in this project will be made available to the general public after appropriate quality control checks and a minimal delay (not more than 1 year after the project end date). The data will be made available through a public GitHub repository. In addition to data sharing, the GitHub repository will be used to make public replication materials for any published articles resulting from this project.